REPORT ON WATER AND GRAIN FOR BIRDS IN SUMMER 2020

Environment, trees-plants and animals-birds have great importance for the balance of nature. It is duty of all the people to keep pots or bowls filled with grains and water for these birds on your roofs, balconies, or any nearby location so that these birds can feed themselves. Climate change is affecting migration patterns of birds as has been noticed in the last few decades. The scarcity of water is affecting all organisms alike. Immense dehydration, very low energies and long flights in the heat break are detrimental to the health of birds.

Indian government announce strict lockdown from the last week of April 2020 hence it was difficult to organize any activity related to environment. In this situation, with the consideration of summer season, college decided to organize "Water and Grain for Birds in Summer" program. College requested to all students and staff members to keep the pots or bowls filled with grains and water for birds on their roofs. Lot of students participated in this event and some of them send the images of activity toward Mr. A. Y. Sahare, Program Co-ordinator.
